

MIKE POWELL's story is always new and always just beginning. He's a fearless free thinker with a strong passion for storytelling and an unbreakable dedication to his maverick way of life. It's in this constant personal evolution and exploration where he finds his lyrical depth and the messages he aims to send to his listeners. His songs may not make you want to dance but they will surely make you feel.

His live performances are best described as real. Powell is a modern day folk singer with a gift for turning a phrase and a powerfully soulful voice. He presents himself and his songs with an open-chested honesty and authentic conviction that makes it impossible not to believe. With a vividly descriptive verse styling and a universal chorus structure, his songs are specific yet accessible.

His songwriting has garnered international attention through his involvement with the Acoustic Guitar Project and has received airplay on Sirius XM radio. He is a spontaneous performer with the rare ability to make his audience laugh, cry and always leave inspired.

After a decade of work in two propulsive indie rock bands Getaway Driver and Cavaliers, STEPHEN DOUGLAS WOLFE has found his voice, this time without a band surrounding him. Until now, Stephen's four releases and extensive touring as a member of these bands, Lawrence, Kansas was what he called home. Wolfe's Eastern Kansas hometown brought with it an opportunity to convene an impressive roster of musicians for his first solo album. Cavaliers' "Except for the Birds" (released in 2007) was his chance to assemble players from acts such as The Get Up Kids, Kelpie, Ghosty, and The Roseline to contribute to the record. After a hiatus brought upon partially by a professional move to NYC, recording would resume for Wolfe in his new home in 2015 at Subcat Studios in Syracuse, New York. A series of digital singles including "O River" "Free" and "Pretty Baby" found their way to the public at the end of the year. With 2016 came a series of 7" singles - "We'll Live" released in march, "Window" in June, and finally "The Animals" in November. Also released in November was the self-titled EP containing all 6 songs from the 7" series. Along the way, Wolfe pushed two digital-only singles, "Thoughts & Prayers" which was recorded in one take straight to tape, and "Believe Me."
